

A B S T R A C T

~~This~~ A method for notifying changes of state in the resources of a network to ~~at least~~ one an application adapted to execute on the network, ~~comprises~~ includes the following steps: extracting routing ~~information~~, information from a transport or network layer of the network, using a change-of-state ~~notification means~~ notifier with which the application has previously been register; and forwarding ~~said~~ the routing information extracted by the change-of-state ~~notification means~~ notifier to the application.